Infrastructural solutions

Are you looking for infrastructural solutions within your company? Ictivity takes care of it! Ictivity helps you ahead by working with experienced consultants, (temporary) resources and practical training...

Organization

Ictivity is an independent Dutch ICT service company with offices in Eindhoven, Amsterdam and Rotterdam. Over 100 experienced employees guarantee high quality ICT advice and implementation services aimed at infrastructural solutions. Ictivity is active in the field of consultancy, staffing, training and managed services within the range of government, semi-government and professional businesses. Ictivity mainly works for larger organizations with their own ICT department, both in house and on distance. Ictivity does not sell any hard or software and can therefore guarantee its independibility as an ICT service company.

Consultancy

Ictivity is specialized in virtualization of servers and applications in combination with various control systems. Furthermore, data storage, identity & access management, IP telephony, connectivity and resource management are important fields of knowledge. Solutions will be looked for within open source and traditional companies.

It is also possible to close an ASK (Advice, Sparring & Knowledge) agreement. By means of previously bought hours, you can hire our consultants at any required moment, so you can always rely on the right expertise. Also, monthly proactive administration and reporting will take place and guarantees the right technical expertise in case of calamities.

ICT Staffing

Thanks to our knowledge organization you do not only get specialized people in house with ICT Staffing, but also the entire knowledge network within Ictivity.

Ictivity Training

Ictivity Training is the continuation of the Ictivity consultancy organization in which knowledge development is extremely important. Within consultancy projects often rises the question whether company own employees are capable to manage things individually after the project is closed. Educational trainings will deal with this.. Ictivity Training provides specialized trainings and trainings by means of open registration.

Managed Services

You want to keep your ICT environment tuned with the changing needs within your organization. Ictivity takes care of that! From handling one or several applications to the entire assignment. From pure effort obligation to total result obligation.

Ictivity Managed Services is a complete package of different services.
